BALLOON RACES ARE ATTRACTION

Resourceful Secretary of Fair Hires
Two Aerial Artists and Contests
Will be the Result.

IGNORANT OF OTHER'S COMING

Annual Exhibit Will Offer Many Unusual Features This Year, Including Big Race Card.

All due to the ingenuity of Secretary William King, former sheriff, it is highly probable that a big attraction will be had at this year's annual Rush county fair, which will be held the week of August 30, and 31, and September 1 and 2. The big attraction will be in the nature of balloon races. The resourceful secretary has contracted with two different and high priced balloonists to make daily ascensions on the last three days of the fair. And where he exhibited his slyness is in the fact that he did not let either aerial artist know that the other one had been hired and each one thinks that he and his gas bag is to be the principal attraction at the annual exhibit. But imagine the surprise of one of the air artists, who is jealous of his reputation, when he learns that a contemporary, so to speak, will be on the ground to contest his every move.

Realizing that the balloonists would be jealous of their work, the secretary employed both of them. They will not stand for being outdone and the result will be balloon races. Each aerial artist will not think of being outclassed by his rival and each one will overdo himself to see if he can not accomplish more. With the suggestion of a race it is highly probable that the two exhibition men will enter into the contest with real zeal and enthusiasm, that promises to make real sport for the crowds. The secretary is of the opinion that this would be a better attraction than the one offered last year, a dirigible balloon, which is now a back number in air crafts.

What is conceded to be the biggest attraction is the one to be furnished by Crawford of Marion, Ind., who carries an eighty-five foot balloon with him. He is said to be among the best in his business and to have a few unusual stunts in his repertoire. He has a bicycle act, while making the ascension. He goes up on a wheel attached to his parachute and comes down on it and alights riding. The fair association had to pay extra for that attraction, which will be given in addition to the regular attraction on Thursday of the fair. Crawford will give an ascension and a spectacular parachute leap on each of the last three days of the fair.

A Mt. Vernon, Ohio, man has also been contracted to give an ascension on the last three days of the fair. He comes highly recommended as a conqueror of the air and will probably contest every effort of Crawford of Marion. Secretary King has been attempting to make arrangements for a double parachute leap and it is highly probable that he will be successful. Both of the balloonists employed do not have another parachute in their paraphernalia, but it is likely that another one will be obtained some place and a local man will be hired to take a seat in the extra parachute.

The fair board will attempt this year to give the best fair of recent years. They are preparing an extra big race card and some warmly contested events are expected. Secretary King has already received many inquiries in regard to the races and many horsemen have expressed their intention of making entries here. The three-year-old pace has always been a feature of the racing card and has

TIME OF ANNUAL REUNIONS ARRIVES

Fifteenth Regular Gathering of Newhouse and Blackledge Families to be Held August 17.

AT RUSH COUNTY FAIR GROUND

The time of family reunions and county fairs is here. The fifteenth annual reunion of the Newhouse and Blackledge families will be held on the fair grounds Wednesday, August 17. The event is the time for the gathering of over one hundred members of the two families, which are prominent in this county, from all parts of the State and in many instances from all over the country. The main feature of the day is a large basket dinner, to which all of the housewives contribute, making it a feast that would put the Epicureans of ages past to shame. Aside from the big dinner, a short program is given, in which several of the more prominent members of the two families make short talks. A history of the families is generally read and obituaries of members who have died during the past year are heard. New officers are elected each year, who carry on the business of the organization and who arrange for the annual reunion. Samuel R. Newhouse, president, and W. C. Newhouse, secretary, will send out cards soon, announcing the date and place of the annual event soon.

"BIG WEDNESDAY" FAME SPREADING

Business Manager of Oskaloosa, Iowa Daily Paper Writes For Particulars of Unique Day.

HEARS PRAISES FROM J. B. DOLL

The fame of "Big Wednesday" is spreading far and near, especially far. Inquiries are being received from other cities to know how the plan is worked so that they may give it a trial. J. B. Doll, formerly a restaurant owner here, who lives in Oskaloosa, Iowa, has been extolling the praises of the big day here to such an extent that it has led a business man of that city to make inquiry about it. Mr. Doll receives the Republican and has been reading of the novel arrangement to induce trade to visit Rushville. A letter has been received from Charles S. Walling, business manager of the Herald, a daily newspaper of that city, in which he asks for the particulars concerning the plan. He says that a similar scheme is being considered in that city and they would like to know the manner in which the business men of the city have made the big day a successful one. A reply was sent to him immediately, explaining the details of the plan.

CHANGES BRING ON MANY SALES

Transit of Location, Going Out of Business Are the Main Reasons.

3 FIRMS GO OUT OF BUSINESS

City Presents "iddish" Appearance to an Uninformed Stranger.

A general shift about and shift up has been taking place in the business district of Rushville within the last few months. Among the changes that have taken place is the removal of the postoffice to the Masonic Temple. Jefferis, the jeweler, is selling out his stock at an auction sale. O. H. Bradway, who has been conducting one of the largest furniture stores ever in the county, is selling out his entire stock preparatory to going out of business, which move was necessitated to him by the sale of the building that he occupied to the Mauzy Company. Kennard's jewelry store will soon be moved to the block now occupied by the Farmers Bank, which building Mr. Kennard just recently purchased. The Farmers Bank is going to move into the building now occupied by the Poe jewelry firm. John B. Winship recently sold his dry goods store to Kennedy & Casady, who are now holding a sale to rid themselves of some of their stock. Mr. Casady, when he bought part interest in the dry goods firm disposed of his interests in the firm of Casady & Cox to the junior member of the firm, who is now holding a cut sale in the room, which he now occupies, which is a new location for the firm and one which was necessitated by the building of the new Rushville Bank block.

The Rushville public find Albert Aldridge's grocery two doors to the east of its former stand, this change being brought about by the building of what is to be known as the Cutter block. Mauzy Company is having a cut price removal sale, preparatory to their removal to their new home. The old Carmichael store was sold and the stock of goods was shortly after removed from the city and its old home is unoccupied. Strangers in the city who walk down the streets noticing Bodine's Betker's, Bliss & Cowing and Knecht's sales advertised along with the others already mentioned, would wonder in the name of the Hebrews what sort of an "iddish" city this was, but when one stops to think of the many changes of partnerships, the number of changes of location, and the number of firms that have gone out or are going out of business in this city within the last few months, then the clothes of that "Yiddisha Rag" take flight into the background.

FIRST CITY MAIL CARRIER

W. B. Downey, Who Died Yesterday,
Had That Honor.

An interesting incident in the life of William Baylis Downey, brother of J. B. Downey, rural mail carrier, who lived here several years and who died yesterday morning in the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis, is the fact that he was one of the first bunch of city mail carriers in Indianapolis. Mr. Downey's death was due to an injury which he received in the civil war. His son, Brynt C. Downey, is cashier of the American National bank in Indianapolis. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at two o'clock.

GIVES UP AFTER DEFYING POSSE

Lemuel McMullen, Dublin "Bad Man"
Finally Surrenders to Officers
After Exciting Chase.

SYMPATHY NOW IN HIS FAVOR

Minister May be Asked to Show Cause For Entering Complaint Against Ex-Mountaineer.

Lemuel McMullen, ex-mountaineer and alleged to be a "bad man," who Wednesday resisted arrest and exchanged shots with a sheriff's posse, which chased him southwest of Dublin, Wayne county, his home, over into Fayette county in the Lamberson settlement, surrendered last evening. He was wounded in the right thigh by a charge from a shotgun. McMullen gave himself up through Bert Riatt, for whom he formerly worked.

When McMullen was taken before Justice Bowmaster it was found that the affidavit against him had been improperly prepared and a new one had to be made out. Citizens throughout the county are exercised over the affair and it is said, sympathy is with McMullen. The trouble arose when McMullen was found whipping one of his sons and a warrant was made out charging him with abusing his children. Now it is said that he was only chastising the boy for throwing stones at passing automobiles and not his deformed daughter as it was first reported.

McMullen was released by Justice Bowmaster last night and was taken to Richmond by Marshall Driscoll, where affidavits were made Wednesday before Judge Fox, charging McMullen with resisting an officer and shooting with intent to kill.

According to the Richmond Palladium yesterday afternoon it was rumored about Dublin that some action would be instituted against the Rev. Alvernis Needham, Christian minister, for him to show cause why he swore out the warrant against Emanuel McMullen, who pursued by incensed sub-deputies, returned fire which had been opened on him.

Jim McMullen, the young boy whose father whipped him for throwing a stone through the glass front of an automobile a few days ago, it is stated by a number of reputable citizens, does not show marks or indications of ill or inhumane treatment.

It is considered doubtful as to whether or not the community has the legal right to delve into the Rev. Mr. Needham's motives for swearing to the warrant which nearly turned the community into a several days' warfare.

A canvass of the better element of the town shows public sentiment to be inclining toward McMullen and against the minister, who declares that he has done no wrong.

It is believed that a committee

HAD SUCCESSFUL OPERATION

George Berkamier of Decatur County
May Live After Incision.

Dr. J. C. Sexton, of Rushville, and Dr. C. M. Beall of Clarksburg Thursday performed a successful operation for appendicitis on George Berkamier, of near St. Maurice, says the Greensburg Democrat. The case was a very serious one and the physicians hope for his recovery although, on account of the advanced stage of the disease, they are not holding out many hopes to the patient or his family. A trained nurse from the Sexton's sanitarium at Rushville is in attendance.

from among the older residents of Dublin will be selected to confer with Prosecutor Ladd regarding the matter with a view to setting an example against the repetition of such extreme actions as the authorities took against McMullen on a warrant of such lightness as is out for him.

Saner persons of the town state freely that they are very glad Meredith appeared on the scene as soon Wednesday afternoon as he did, as he served to frustrate the organization of an overwrought and excited party of younger men, who planned an armed attack on the Hollingsworth home in the upper part of Fayette county.

Meredith's final order Wednesday afternoon when he left the city to the effect that "There shall be no violence of any sort in the capture of this man," had been observed.

It was expected that as soon as McMullen realized that he was not to be hanged or sent to prison for his offense, he would voluntarily give himself up.

LOCAL HORSE WINS IN THREE HEATS

Jerome, Trotter Driven by George Weeks, Takes First Money at North Vernon Fair.

OWNED BY GOWDY AND GRAHAM

Although a number of prominent fast horse drivers and trainers have moved out of Rush county in the past year, Rush county horse flesh continues to conquer. Jerome, a trotter, owned by John K. Gowdy and Bruce Graham, won the 2:30 trot in three straight heats at the Jennings county fair, being held at North Vernon this week, yesterday. The horse was driven by George Weeks and made his best mile, the last one, in 2:24 1/4. The horse was trained and raced last season by Bruce Graham and was seen at the local fair. He was sired by Western Horseman.

Other Rush county horses and drivers were in the races at North Vernon yesterday. Frances Sexton, owned by Horton and Davis, and driven by Riley Netro, was an entrant in the 2:30 trot against Jerome, but failed to finish in the money, taking third, fifth and sixth positions, respectively. Red Lock, owned and driven by Frank Lindsey of this city, was in the 2:30 trot, but did not get within reach of the money. Roscoe Benning, owned by J. C. Benning of this city, and driven by Riley Netro, was entered in the 2:25 pace, but did not get in the winnings.

"SUNNY JIM" WILL BE THERE

Vice-President Sherman Writes Watson That he Will be Here Next Week.

NEW CASTLE "BOOSTER DAY"

C. S. Hernly has received a letter from James E. Watson, in which was enclosed a letter from "Sunny Jim" Sherman, Vice-President of the United States, says the New Castle Courier. In his letter to Watson the Vice-President stated that he had decided to accept the invitation extended him by Hernly to visit New Castle on "Boosters' Day." He has been planning a visit to Watson at Rushville for some weeks and will be both there and here next week.

With ex-Vice-President Fairbanks, Governor Marshall and all the rest of the big guns coming New Castle is certainly in for a touch of high life.

OLDEST WOMAN IN COUNTY DEAD

Mrs. Mary Sharp, Who Was Nearly 93 Years Old, Died Yesterday Afternoon.

FUNERAL TOMORROW MORNING

Thirty-four Survivors of the Direct Lineage Mourn Her Death.

Mrs. Mary Sharp, who was the oldest woman in the county, answered the summons that comes to all yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John A. Craig in West Second street. She had been sick for the last twelve weeks and general debility caused her death. Mrs. Sharp was a woman who had been permitted to see the progress of this great Middle West for almost a century. She was born in Kentucky on September 3, 1817, being 92 years, 10 months and 25 days of age.

If the family that she had been the direct head of could have been gathered together it would have made an interesting group. She is survived by six children, Mrs. Addie Zumwalt of this city; Mrs. Perlina James of Scott county, Ky.; John F. M. Sharp of Kentucky; A. C. Sharp of Union township; Mrs. Charles Whitton of Henry county, and Mrs. John A. Craig of this city. She is also survived by eighteen grandchildren, six great grandchildren, and two great great grandchildren, making in all thirty-four survivors of direct lineage.

Mrs. Sharp has been a resident of this county for twenty-six years, and during her entire residence she has taken an active interest in the United Presbyterian church. The funeral services will be held at the United Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. They will be conducted by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson of the church that she had been identified with. Burial will be made in East Hill cemetery.

SAID TOADSTOOLS WERE MUSHROOMS

Robert Ray, C. H. & D. Section Hand,
Eats Them and is Taken Violently Ill.

HAULED HOME ON A HAND CAR

Robert Ray, a section hand on the C. H. & D. railroad, is confined to his home near Arlington with a serious sickness, due to the fact that he ate toadstools, which he believed to be mushrooms. He became violently sick while working on the railroad between here and Arlington yesterday and was loaded on a hand-car and taken home and a physician was called. Ray had found what he believed was mushrooms on several occasions and has tried to get his fellow workmen to enjoy a rare treat with him, but they always refused, telling him that they were not mushrooms. Wednesday night, he took home a quantity of toadstools and tried to get members of his family to eat them, but they steadfastly refused, believing that they were not mushrooms. He, however, ate some, but they did not cause him to become sick until yesterday afternoon. He will probably recover.

J. L. Cowing is slightly indisposed today.

Lesson V.—Third Quarter, For July 31, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xviii, 21-35. Memory Verses, 21, 22—Golden Text, Matt. vi, 14—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Our last two lessons have set before us the building of the church and the subsequent setting up of the kingdom during this age and at the close of it. It is worth remembering that the church is said to be builded, never set up (Matt. xvi, 18; Eph. ii, 19, 22; 1 Pet. ii, 5; Gen. ii, 22, margin, with Eph. v, 31, 32), whereas the kingdom is said to be set up, not builded (Dan. ii, 44). If we would walk worthy of God who hath called us unto His kingdom and glory (1 Thess. ii, 12) the two features of today's lesson, humility and forgiveness, should be specially manifest in us, remembering the first words of our Lord's discourse on the principles of the kingdom, "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven" (Matt. v, 3), and also that the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit is in the sight of God of great price (1 Pet. iii, 4).

As we are to have but one lesson in this chapter we must consider the first portion on humility as well as the last on forgiveness. What a trial it must have been to our Lord, who had so humbled Himself, to see these disciples continually thinking and talking about who should be greatest in His kingdom even up to the last night before He was crucified and to have the mother of two of them asking for special places of honor for her sons (verse 1; xx, 20, 21; Luke ix, 46-48; xxii, 24). What must He think of the same strife still between denominations and societies and churches and individual believers, whose one aim should be to exalt Him, for one peculiar feature of the kingdom will be that the Lord alone shall be exalted (Isa. ii, 11-17). A little child is His object lesson, first in reference to entering the kingdom and then in reference to greatness in it (verses 2-4), and the thought seems to be that of helplessness, dependence, teachableness and a readiness to come to Him. In order to be saved we must come utterly empty of self righteousness, simply pleading guilty. In order to position in His kingdom we must in conscious meekness yield to Him that He may work His works in us. It must be "Not I, but the grace of God" (1 Cor. xv, 10). See verse 14 on His unwillingness that any should perish, and compare 1 Pet. iii, 9. As to the safety of little children who die before they know right or wrong, I find much comfort in the analogy of Deut. i, 39. As to the ministry of angels, see verse 10, with Heb. i, 14. From verse 20 learn never to ask the Lord to be present at our gatherings, but always to thank Him that He is present, according to this assurance. The instructions of verses 15-19 concerning dealing with an offending brother seems to lead to Peter's question, Lord, how oft shall I forgive him? Till seven times? (verse 21).

No doubt Peter thought that he was suggesting a wide margin when he spoke of forgiving seven times, so blind and selfish and earthly were he and his fellows in all their thoughts. Just so are we also until filled with His Spirit. Well might He often say to us: "How is it that ye do not understand?" "Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known Me?" (Matt. xvi, 11; John xiv, 9.) Because His thoughts and ways are as far above ours as heaven is above the earth (Isa. lv, 8, 9), let us become so full of His thoughts, by His Spirit and His word, that ours shall find no place in us. Our Lord's reply to Peter, "I say not unto thee until seven times, but until seventy times seven" (verse 22), sends me away back to Gabriel's message to Daniel concerning the kingdom in Dan. ix, 24-26, R. V., where we hear him say that after seventy weeks or sevens the kingdom will come, bringing in everlasting righteousness. I therefore hear our Lord say to Peter, Keep on forgiving till the kingdom comes. I always find the clearest light on Scripture in Scripture, believing that the Spirit is the best interpreter of His own words. The 666 of Rev. xiii, 18, sends me to the 666 of 1 Kings, x, 14, and I learn that one feature of the power of the antichrist will be his control of gold and the use he will make of it. I expect that we will yet see some connection between the 153 great fishes of the resurrection catch (John xxi, 11) and the 153,000 strangers of 11 Chron. ii, 17.

The kingdom is the key to and the fulfilling of many things, and many of our Lord's teachings can only be understood in the light of the kingdom as distinct from the church. The full forgiveness of the debtor of verses 24-27, like the forgiveness of the two debtors of Luke vii, 41, 42, is illustrative of the full and free forgiveness granted to every bankrupt sinner who comes to Christ, for of all such it can be truly said, "Justified freely by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Rom. iii, 24). But this forgiven one afterward delivered to the tormentors till he should pay all has no parallel in salvation by grace. Even the words of Isa. xliii, 25, in reference to transgressions and sins are "blotted out," "not remembered." The necessity of freely forgiving others if we ourselves would enjoy the forgiveness of God (verse 35) is also set forth in Matt. vi, 14, 15.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning July 31, 1910.

Topic.—My most interesting missionary item.—Ps. xlv, 1-4; Acts xxviii, 23-29. Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

Every Christian Endeavor should be possessed of some of the great and interesting events of missions. After all, they are simply the stories of the wondrous works of God in bringing the world to the cross, using men and women as the agents in the work. More-over, nowhere has God wrought more wonderful works than in this particular field of all His labors, either in nature or in the government and development of men and nations. The story of missions is the most thrilling story in the world's history. Men have lauded great generals, some of whom have practically conquered the world of their day. They have heaped laurels and erected monuments at the graves of millions of soldiers who have borne sacrifices and endured hardships in fighting for their country. But if they only knew the sacrifices of missionaries, their fearlessness in facing hardships to save the souls of men rather than kill their bodies, they would have a higher regard for the missionaries and their cause. Take the lives of men like David Brainerd, Marcus Whitney, Mrs. McFarland, the only white woman in Alaska for eight months, and many other home missionaries. Recall the great names of the men and women engaged in foreign missions—Judson, Carey, Livingstone, Moffet, Paton and scores of others. Where in all the world are biographies more thrilling, more courageous, more self sacrificing, to be found? Nowhere, and as Christian Endeavorers we should know not an interesting item, but the entire lives, of these greatest of the world's heroes.

We should not only know the great events in these men's lives, but tell them abroad. Our children should be able to say with the psalmist, "We have heard with our ears, O God; our fathers have told us what work Thou didst in their times in the days of old." Since that God has done still greater things on mission fields, and these things should be made known to all men. Ignorance is the chief source of missionary indifference. Tell men the story, the facts; tell them what God hath wrought and what He is doing today. Interest will be aroused, and active participation will be engaged in by the majority of those who hear. And the timid ones might have hesitated, but even they need no longer do so. Our greatest men from personal observation and knowledge have paid and are paying their highest encomiums to missionaries and their labors.

Knowing the great labors and telling about them will deepen our own interest in God's greatest cause. We will want to be more and do more for missions.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. iii, 1-7; Nah. i, 15; Matt. xxviii, 19-20; Acts i, 1-8; xiii, 1-3; xiv, 24-28; xli, 1, 2; xvi, 16-21; Isa. liii, 1; Rom. xi, 14, 15, 19-21.

Not Fully Developed.

Christian Endeavor has not been developed to the highest point of efficiency—not yet. While it must remain essentially a society conducted by the young people, it calls for a closer study on the part of the pastor and all earnest church workers; it calls for trained leadership, the teacher himself being thoroughly equipped for the task of teaching them. This work will most frequently fall upon the pastor's broad shoulders, and he will carry the burden joyfully when he realizes that, after all, it is only a seed basket which bears the promise of a harvest for the church unto life eternal. The tasks that committees are set to accomplish will be such as the young people will find worthy of their best efforts and through which they will "learn to live" as Christians and citizens, "by living." Social life also will be encouraged. Not fewer socials, especially for the younger people, but more, will be held. One society in Texas put a dance hall out of commission by organizing clean, healthy socials for the boys and girls. We shall come to recognize the need of "play" and the educational value of it, and possibly in the near future the church will ring with the laughter and the shouts of happy children. The prophet saw merry, playing crowds in the streets of the holy city, and he rejoiced. Why may not we?—Ripple in Christian Endeavor World.

A Message From Mr. Edison.

Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor, recently sent this personal message to the world of Christian Endeavor by Mr. Amos R. Wells, the editorial secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor:

If there is any message I can give that might be of value to your young people it would be this: To be interested in whatever they undertake or may be doing at the moment, to dismiss from their minds everything else but the one thing they are doing at the time and to think only of that one thing in all its bearings, from every viewpoint, and to be master of it. Don't mind the clock, but keep at it and let nature indicate the necessity for rest. After resting go at the work again with the same interest. The world pays big prices to men who know. To accomplish things there must first be an idea of possibility; then the watchword must be "Try," and keep on trying with enthusiasm and a thorough belief in an ability to succeed. If you are convinced that a certain thing can be done, never mind what the world says to the contrary. Experiment if you are really interested. Forget entirely the word disappointment. Failures, so called, are but finger posts pointing out the right direction to those who are willing to learn. So far as I can see, these principles have influenced me in the years that have passed. In addition, I have always believed that hard work and a living general interest in everything that makes for human progress will make men or women valuable to themselves and to the world.

CLARK'S PURITY FLOUR never fails to please. Try it. Guaranteed.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organs. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is no "cure-all" humbug, but is made for just one purpose—to cure the weaknesses, painful disorders and irregularities of the womanly organism. It is

THE ONE REMEDY for these ailments, sold by druggists, devised and gotten up by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in treating woman's peculiar diseases and is carefully adapted to work in harmony with her delicate organization, by an experienced and skilled specialist in her maladies.

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, which contains neither alcohol (which to most women is the rankest poison) or other injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath—thus taking its users into their full confidence, and warranting physicians in prescribing it in their worst cases, which they do very largely.

It is foolish as well as dangerous to take medicine the composition of which you know nothing. Therefore, don't let a dishonest druggist prevail on you to accept a secret nostrum for this professionally approved medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. Every ingredient in its make-up has the strongest indorsement of the leading medical men of all the several schools of practice. Send postal card request for free Booklet of same.

Every woman may write fully and confidentially to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and may be sure that her case will receive careful, conscientious, confidential consideration, and that the best medical advice in the world will be given to her, absolutely free.

In addition to this free advice, Dr. Pierce will send a fine French cloth-bound copy of his great 1000-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," to any woman who will send 31 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They work in harmony with "Favorite Prescription" when needed as a gentle laxative. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

KILLED SUCCESSFUL RIVAL

When Lee Stallyfids Received Invitation to Marriage of Man Who "Cut Him Out" He Sent Back Threat of Death at Sight—That Was Five Years Ago, and Stallyfids Has Just Fulfilled His Vow.

Mt. Vernon, Ind., July 29.—Five years ago, when Harry Long was married in Henderson county, Kentucky, he sent Lee Stallyfids an invitation to his wedding, the two having been rivals for the hand of the bride. Stallyfids replied, "I will kill you like a dog the first time I see you." Long and his wife came here to live and, unknown to them, Stallyfids secured work near here some weeks ago.

Late at night Long and his wife were sitting in the swing in front of their home and Mrs. Long was holding the baby in her lap. Stallyfids passed by and, seeing them, without saying a word, opened fire. He shot three times, one shot striking Long in the leg and the other two passed through his abdomen.

George Bishop, a neighbor, sitting a few feet away, knocked Stallyfids down with a brick at the third shot, and after wrenching his pistol away, held him until an officer came and arrested him. Long was taken to Evansville on a special traction car, but all efforts to save his life were futile. Stallyfids when taken to jail refused to talk about his crime.

KILLED HIS TENANT

Indiana Has Another Farm Tragedy, This Time in Carroll County.

Logansport, Ind., July 29.—As a result of a long-standing feud, Samuel A. Michaels, aged fifty years, living in this city, shot and instantly killed Levi C. Pippinger, aged fifty-one years, a tenant on the Michaels farm in Carroll county, just across the Cass line. Michaels and Pippinger got into an argument about thrashing grain, and the former drew a revolver and fired twice point blank at Pippinger. Both bullets took effect, and Pippinger fell dead.

Michaels then jumped into a buggy in which he had driven from his home in Logansport, and went to Burrows. There he awaited the arrival of Sheriff Blue of Delphi.

Pippinger was former marshal of Fulton county, and at one time was a partner of George W. Rentschler, joint representative of Cass and Fulton, in stock buying. Last fall he and Michaels got into an argument and when Michaels would not get off the farm, Pippinger knocked him down. Bad blood has existed between the two since that time, and Pippinger on the advice of his attorney, had refused to permit Michaels to come on the farm. Pippinger's lease expires next October. Pippinger was married and had several grown children. Michaels has a wife and three children.

FACTS COMING OUT

Details of Illinois Central Graft Cases Told on Witness Stand.

Chicago, July 29.—"High officials of the Illinois Central railroad who were interested in car repairing plants entered into an agreement among themselves to divide profits grafted from the railroad. These profits amounted to as high as 40 per cent of the total amount paid by the road. That is the charge made on the witness stand by Harold A. Sims in his testimony before Master in Chancery Roswell B. Mason in the suit of the railroad to recover $300,000 from the Memphis Car company.

Although he was on the "inside" and knew in detail the method used to rob the railroad, Sims says that he realized only $750 for his share in the work. Illinois Central lumber was used to repair Illinois Central cars and then the road was charged for the lumber, he said. Cars loaded with material were shipped to the Memphis Car Repair company, and it was the practice to charge for repairs made on the cars, whether they were made or not, the witness said, and more often they were not.

EVANGELIST'S PERIL

"Sailor Bob" Clark Victim of Attack by Drunken Stranger.

Champaign, Ill., July 29.—Sailor Bob Clark, an evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal church, was attacked by a drunken man while riding on an interurban car between Danville and Champaign. The stranger advanced on the revival leader with a large knife and was in the act of driving it into the side of the venerable preacher when Conductor Dowling and another passenger flung him.

The trouble arose out of the action of the aggressor in removing the belongings of Sailor Bob from two seats and sitting down in one of them. The Rev. Mr. Clark remonstrated in vain. He then told the intruder what he thought of him, and the attack followed. The man escaped by jumping through a window when the car stopped for a railroad crossing.

DESTRUCTIVE FLOOD

Much Damage Reported by Reason of Continued Rain in Kentucky.

Hawesville, Ky., July 29.—Nearly every bridge in Hancock county was carried away, many miles of public highway rendered impassable and the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroad washed out in many places as a result of a twelve-hour rain. Lightning destroyed the station of the railway company at Lewisburg, and a large chair factory at Tell City, across the Ohio river. Many homes along streams throughout the county have been abandoned. The loss to livestock is reported heavy.

Will Increase Capital Stock.

Louisville, July 29.—The special meeting of the stockholders of the Fidelity Trust Company, at which a plan to increase the capital of the company from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 will be considered, will be held August 18. At the meeting the stockholders will be asked to approve the plan to issue $1,000,000 additional stock so that the shortage caused by the speculations of August Ropke, now in jail, may be overcome.

Rawn's Millions Mythical.

Chicago, July 29.—Instead of being a millionaire, Ira G. Rawn, president of the Monon road, who was found shot to death in his summer home, died possessed of an estate valued at only $120,000. At least, so a petition filed by his widow declares. The will was promptly admitted to probate. Mrs. Rawn was appointed executrix.

ONE WAS KILLED IN SUGAR DOCK RIOTS

Bloody Clash With Strikers In New York.

New York, July 29.—Things came to a bloody pass between the American Sugar Refining company at their refining plant on South Third street in Williamsburg and the 1,500 strikers who have been harrasing the works since they walked out ten days ago, when the strikers, desperate Poles and Lithuanians and Russians, fought a small handful of special policemen and a smaller squad of regular members of the police force up and down Kent avenue for nearly an hour. In the end one of the strikers was picked up nearly dead—he died a few minutes after he reached a hospital, from a gunshot wound in the abdomen—seven men were seriously wounded, and a score carried wounds to the back rooms of their tenements, evading the police.

Henry A. Morgan, the cashier of the refinery, who succeeded James F. Bender, the convicted official, in the post at the Williamsburg works, was arrested after the riots, charged with the killing of the Polish striker. Morgan was released on $5,000 bail.

The trouble was caused by the sugar refinery people attempting to move some sugar from the works for distribution among the local dealers in Brooklyn and New York.

CALLED OUT TROOPS

Streetcar Riots at Columbus Too Much For Local Police.

Columbus, O., July 29.—For the first time since the Baltimore & Ohio road strike trouble in 1887, Ohio's capital has been invaded by militia called for riot duty. Two thousand soldiers, under command of General McMaken of Toledo, are encamped here today pursuant to a call issued by Mayor Marshall, who after four days of intermittent rioting incident to the streetcar strike, declared his police force exhausted and no longer able to cope with the situation. Governor Harmon is expected to arrive from his summer home at Charlevoix, Mich., this afternoon. W. D. Mahon, international president of the streetcar men's union, is directing the contest for the men. The union went on strike late in April because it claimed the Columbus Railway and Light company was discharging all men suspected of belonging to the union. An increase in pay also was asked.

"That man Bristow is telling a pack of lies on me," declared Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, referring to the bombardment by Senator Joseph L. Bristow of Kansas, and other insurgents.

An Expert's Opinion of Skin Disease.

A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin disease, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. F. E. Wolcott will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin disease and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

The men who betrayed the Democratic party into the hands of the trusts in 1904 and made that party machine a national by-word and a reproach, are in charge of Democratic party destinies today. Tom Taggart, who misled his party as national chairman in the Parker fiasco, is the central figure in Indiana at this time. It is pretty safe to say that the Democrats who refused to be led astray by Taggart and the trusts in 1904 will be harder than ever to mislead this campaign.

All desire to see how Governor Marshall will make the tariff the main issue in the Indiana campaign. He has no Democratic plank to stand on. Plainly the Democratic governor cannot create a platform to take the place of the party's own State platform. Several county conventions of Democrats have gone so far. But it is not like the Democratic governor to take such extreme measures as were taken in revolting Boone, Johnson, Clinton, Montgomery, Wells and elsewhere.

The Democratic governor would revise the tariff to revenue-only basis, immediately. His party platform does not join him in that cry. So if he expects to paramount the tariff he will have to go it alone.

So long as the Democratic platform quotes Joe Bailey, the extreme high protectionist, it will be difficult for Marshall to impress the voters which talk of tariff for revenue only. He cannot make his words square with his party platform in any event. And surely he would not take the position of a catch-vote politician, playing double to be-fool the people.

Uncle sam is now annually pouring money into the lap of the rest of the world. In other words, the flow is now longer in the direction of the United States from abroad. It is in the direction of the rest of the world, from the United States. The balance of trade on the face of things is still in favor of the United States. That is, the statistics of the department of commerce and labor show that we are exporting more than we are importing. Figures recently given out by the department of commerce and labor show an excess of exports over imports was $187,111,349. This, however, is an extremely small excess, the lowest in recent years.

But the small balance of trade in our favor, as shown by the figures, is much more than counterbalanced by the fact that large sums of money go out annually from America which are not included in the term of exports. These sums go mainly to Europe. They consist of the following: money expended by American tourists traveling abroad; money sent abroad to pay interest on American securities held there; money sent abroad by persons of foreign birth living in the United States who contribute to relatives; money paid to foreigners for transportation.

Estimates as to the totals of these items vary widely. But it is said from good authority that from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 is carried abroad and left there by American tourists; about as much more is sent abroad for interest, and perhaps $100,000,000 is sent by those of foreign birth in this country who give to relatives and friends abroad.

Red Men Make Resolutions

The committee on resolutions of the Mimosa Tribe, No. 379, Improved Order of Red Men of Arlington have adopted the following words of respect for their dead brother Peter Kuntz:

We, Your committee, beg leave to present the following resolutions: Whereas, The Infinite Creator of all things, The Gracious Ruler and Disposer of all events, has summoned from earth into the great and vast beyond, and,

Whereas, each member of the Tribe feels our bereavement when we remember his kind and gentle manner and his various deeds of goodness,

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Peter Kuntz, our fellow-worker, we lost a kind and worthy member, and each one of us a true friend, who always had a pleasant smile and a kind word for us all.

Resolved, That in token of our esteem for our brother the charter be appropriately draped for the period of thirty suns.

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the will of the Great Spirit, we offer our heart-felt sympathy to the family who are bereft of a kind and indulgent husband and father. May they ever look forward to that meeting in the realms of peace and love where partings are no more, being consoled by the assurance that the memory of him, whom they loved and esteemed so highly will ever be held in loving remembrance by us all.

PAVING DELAYED UNTIL CAR COMES

Contractors Learn That Material is Held in Hamilton and Time of Arrival is Indefinite.

THREE BLOCKS ARE TORN UP

W. H. Adams, president, and I. W. Harper, vice-president of the Adams Brothers Construction company of Zanesville, Ohio, who have the contract for the paving of Main and Second streets, have at last located the car load of machinery and material to be used in their work, at Hamilton, Ohio. The failure of the car to arrive has delayed the work after it had once been started and nothing can be done until it comes. The railroad authorities say that the yards at Hamilton are choked up and it is impossible to tell when they will be able to get the car out. The car contains shovels and numerous other things to be used in the construction. Main street has been torn up for three squares down to Eleventh street and will remain so until the lost car arrives.

FALLS FROM WHEEL IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Roger Kennedy, 8-Year-Old Coy of Carthage is Painfully Hurt in Accident There.

LOCAL DOCTOR DRIVING CAR

Roger Kennedy, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Kennedy of Carthage was painfully injured last night when the automobile driven by Dr. W. S. Coleman of this city, collided with the wheel which the youngster was riding and threw him off. The accident happened at a street corner in Carthage about dusk last evening as Dr. Coleman started to drive his machine around a corner. The two met and when Dr. Coleman started to turn one way, the boy on the wheel directed his wheel the same way. They both faltered in attempting to make the turn in the opposite direction and a collision was the result. The boy was bruised by the fall and cut in a few places, but will not suffer any serious results from the injuries. His wheel was not broken. Dr. L. M. Green of this city and Miss Lillian Righter of Carthage were also in the machine at the time of the accident.

WHEAT GOES DOWN; CAR IS DERAILED

Load of Grain Thrown on Side When it "Side-Swipes" Cut of Cars.

J. M. & I. PASSENGER DELAYED

New wheat went down this afternoon about three o'clock, when a full car load of grain, sent up the main track in a flying switch near the J. M. & I depot, "side-swiped" a cut of cars on the side-track and was knocked off the track. The brakes on the car failing to work is given as the reason for the accident. The south-bound passenger, due here at 3:20 o'clock was delayed about one hour while the wreck was being cleared away. The trucks were pulled out from under the derailed car and the car pushed over so that the passenger could pass. The wrecking crew from Columbus was ordered to come immediately to get the car back on the track.

Pigeons

Carrier pigeons were put to a new use by a San Francisco newspaper during the recent Jeffries-Johnson fight, when the swift flying birds were used to carry photographs of the fight from Reno to San Francisco, 160 miles away. A camera, no larger than a watch was used, and the tiny picture films were no larger than a postage stamp. They were put in aluminum capsules and each capsule was fastened to the leg of a pigeon. Twenty-two birds were released from the ringside. The pictures were enlarged for the use of the paper. However, a fast flying train, carrying other pictures, made the trip to San Francisco in six hours, beating the birds.

The seat holder who scorched while Billy Jordan was introducing the ring celebrities of other days were kept interested by the spectacle of the birds as they were liberated every few minutes with the antebellum pictures, and some were so attracted by the sight that the announcement of the famous "so-and-so" presence didn't get into one ear so it could go out the other.

Tex Rikard announced that the camera men with their big machines would not be allowed in ringside seats, but he made no objection to the watch camera, so a San Francisco photographer and a basket of pigeons nestled close to the ropes.

Every interesting feature of the fight was caught by camera and in the one-minute intervals between the rounds the photographer deftly made the transfer of films from the camera to the capsule in the improvised dark room, handed the aluminum cylinder to an assistant, who fastened it to a pigeon and tossed the bird in the air.

It was something out of the ordinary for that means of perspiring humanity, and they forgot the hot sun while they cheered each pigeon in its flight. As it arose swiftly above the heads flapping its wings noisily with the first motions and circled around high in the air, almost every eye looked up and watched the bird speed from them.

Each pigeon had to fly at an altitude of about 5,400 feet until the Sierras had been passed at Truckee. This is a very unusual altitude for a pigeon, for, when a number of the Pacific Pigeon club's homers crossed the Siskiyou mountains, 3,000 feet high, the feat was considered extraordinary.

The successful result of the trip over did not end the difficulty. The burning heat was a terrible handicap, and with their arrival over a comparatively flat country, a strong west wind was encountered. Farther along they came within the region where the preying hawk disports himself and the huntsman likes to test his skill.

WAS MASQUERADING.

Those who had a good look at her claim that it was not a woman but a man masquerading in woman's toggery.

TO HAVE CITY PARK.

(Shelbyville Republican.)

"If Shelbyville does not have one of the prettiest parks in Indiana when the work of the Park committee for the new Industrial addition is completed, it will be through no fault of the committee and those interested in the matter," were the words of Mr. T. E. Goodrich, secretary of the Industrial club Thursday morning.

The plans which were made by Mr. McDougal of Indianapolis, one of the foremost landscape artists, have arrived, and when the Park Board makes a few minor changes the work will be commenced. Within a day or two the civil engineering will be started and the Park Board will superintend the laying out of the walks and driveways.

The plans include a rustic basin, with a large ornamental fountain; also walks and driveways. When the civil engineer completes his work, then the planting will be commenced.

The Shelbyville Military band has asked permission to use the park next Sunday afternoon for a band concert, but permission had to be refused for various reasons. The band, however, will probably be given the privilege of giving a concert there one week from next Sunday afternoon.

One lumberman has donated a quantity of lumber which will be used in putting up a band stand and the board now asks that someone else come to the front and donate lumber for benches. Carpenters will be asked to donate some of their labor to building the stand and benches soon and every carpenter in the city will receive this kind of an invitation.

The board also expects to observe Arbor day by the planting of numerous trees.

The Girl and the Bill

By Bannister Merwin

Illustrations by Ray Walton

(Copyright, 1900, Dodd, Mead Company.)

The girl turned and smiled at him. "Evanston—Sheridan Road."

"Evans—S. R.!" exclaimed Orme. She laughed a low laugh. "Ah, Monsieur Dupin!" she said.

Speeding along the lake front, the road turned suddenly to the left and west, skirting a large grove of trees which hugged the shore. Just at the turn was a low brick building on the beach. "The life-saving station," explained the girl; "and these are the grounds of the university. The road goes around the campus, and strikes the lake again a mile or more farther north."

Large buildings were at their right after they turned. Orme noted that they were scattered among the trees—some near the street, some at a distance back. Then the road again turned to the north, at a point where less imposing streets broke in from the west and south.

"Stop at this corner," said the girl. Orme threw on the brakes.

"We are in Evanston, on the Sheridan road," she said, "and this street cutting in from the south is Chicago avenue."

"Chi. A.!" exclaimed Orme.

She had taken the paper from the pocket of her coat, and was scanning it closely. "One hundred paces north and two hundred and ten east. 'T.' must mean 'tree.'"

Orme jumped to the ground. He noticed that the university grounds were cut off from the street by an iron fence. There was a gate at the corner by which they had stopped. The gate was not closed. If it were customary to shut it at night, there had been some neglect on this particular evening.

"You'd better go in through the gate," said the girl, "and follow the west fence northward for 100 paces. Then turn east, at right angles and go 210 paces—I suppose it must be paces, not feet."

"Yes," said Orme. "That would be the natural way for a burglar in a hurry to measure."

"I will move the car north on Sheridan road a little way," she went on, "so as not to be in the glare of this street light."

This was the first evidence she had shown of nervousness, and Orme suddenly realized that enemies might be lurking among the trees.

"It might be well for you to take the electric hand-lamp," she added. "It's in the kit-box, I think."

He looked in the kit-box, but the lamp was not there. He told her so.

"Maku may have stolen it," she said.

Orme slipped a heavy wrench into his pocket and closed the kit-box. With the girl, he avoided any reference to the possible presence of the Japanese among the trees, but knowing that he was no match for them unarmed, with their skill in jiu-jitsu, he resolved to be in some measure prepared.

He walked through the gate and began to pace northward, keeping close to the fence and counting his steps. Meantime the car followed his course, moving along the side of the road just west of the fence. Orme counted his hundred paces north, then turned east.

He saw that the 210 paces which he now had to take would carry him well over toward the lake. The girl evidently had not realized how great the distance would be. She would be nearer him, if she turned back to the corner and followed the Sheridan road eastward toward the life-saving station, but Orme did not suggest this to her, though the car was within twenty feet of him, the other side of the fence. If there should be a struggle, it would please him just as well that she should be out of hearing, for her anxiety, he knew, was already great, though she kept it closely under control.

Eastward he went through the trees. When he had covered about half the distance he found himself approaching the side of a large building. There must be some mistake. Had he deviated so widely from the course? In leaving the fence he had taken sights as carefully as he could.

Then the explanation struck him. Walsh, the burglar, had probably paced in eastward from the fence and come to the building just as he had. There was no good hiding-place apparent near at hand, and Walsh would hardly have retraced his steps. What, then, would he have done? Orme asked himself. Why, he would have turned north or south.

Orme looked in both directions. North and south of the building were open driveways. Walsh must have gone around the building, then continued eastward. This is what Orme now proceeded to do.

Remembering the number of paces to the side of the building, he chose the northward course, because there was less light north of the building. He hugged the side of the building, counting his steps, and, after reaching the corner, turned eastward. He now counted his paces along the northern side of the building.

When he reached the corner of the eastern side of the building, he paced as far southward on the eastern side as he had gone northward on the western side, and on reaching a point due east of the place at which he had originally come to the building, he added the number of paces from the fence to the building to the number of paces he had taken along the northern side of the building and continued eastward toward the lake.

At the two hundredth pace he stopped to reconnoiter. Not more than two hundred feet ahead of him he could see dimly, through the tree trunks, the expanse of the lake. There was no sound, no evidence that any other person was near.

He proceeded cautiously for ten paces. Many trees were near him. He would have to examine all of them, for it was hardly possible that he had followed Walsh's course with unerring exactness. If the tree was within twenty feet of him north or south, that was as much as he could expect.

One thing was clear to him. Walsh had probably chosen a tree that could easily be distinguished from the others, either by its size or by some peculiarity of form. Also, the tree must have a hollow place in which the envelope could be concealed. Orme now decided that Walsh must have found his tree first and then paced westward to the fence. The even number, 100 paces north from the gate, could be only a coincidence.

A little to his left Orme discovered a trunk much larger than his neighbors. It ran up smoothly about eight feet to the first limb. An agile man could easily get up to this limb and pull himself into the branches. A cavity such as are so common in oaks, would furnish a good place for hiding the envelope away.

He looked up. Suddenly a light appeared among the branches. It was a short ray, striking against the trunk. Before Orme could realize what was happening a hand appeared in the little bar of radiance and was inserted apparently into the trunk of the tree. A moment later it was withdrawn. It held an oblong of white.

Involuntarily Orme took a step forward. A twig cracked under his foot. Instantly the light went out.

Orme drew the wrench from his pocket and stood tense. There was no other tree quite close enough for the man above him to spring to its branches. He would have to drop near Orme.

Standing there, the wrench in his

Hundreds of Rushville Readers Know What it Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed. Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, sideache, headache. Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Rushville citizen tells here the way to keep the kidneys well.

Mason Maxey, 836 West Third street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy of great merit and I therefore hold them in high esteem. When I procured my first box of Doan's Kidney Pills at F. B. Johnson & Co., drug store three years ago, I was badly in need of a remedy that would relieve me of the pains in my back. I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a reliable preparation for that purpose and by the time I had finished the contents of two boxes, the pain had disappeared. I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills at that time and the elapse of three years has not changed my opinion of them. I willingly confirm all I have said in my original statement."

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact.

Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by Hargrove & Mullin.

hand, Orme felt that the advantage was his. He heard rustlings in the branches above his head and kept himself alert to guard against the man dropping on his shoulders.

To strike the Japanese down as he dropped from the tree, that was his plan. But meantime, where was the other Japanese? Was he among the near shadows? If so, he might even now be creeping stealthily toward Orme. The likelihood of such an attack was disconcerting to think of. But as Orme was wondering about it, it occurred to him that the man in the tree would not have gone on guard so quickly, if his confederate were near at hand. It was natural that he should have put the light out, but would he not immediately afterward have given some signal to the friend below? And would he not take it for granted that, were a stranger near, his watcher would have managed to give warning? No, the other Japanese could not be on guard.

Perhaps, thought Orme, only one of them had come on this quest. He hoped that this might be the case. He could deal with one.

The man in the tree was taking his own time to descend. Doubtless he would await a favorable moment, then alighting on the ground as far from Orme as possible, make off at top speed.

But now, to Orme's surprise, a figure swung from the lower branch apparently without haste. Once on the ground, however, the stranger leaped toward Orme.

An intuition led Orme to thrust out his left arm. It was quickly seized, but before the assailant could twist it, Orme struck out with the wrench, which was in his right hand. Swift though the motion was, his opponent threw up his free arm and partly broke the force of the blow. But the wrench reached his forehead nevertheless, and with a little moan, he dropped to the ground in a heap.

As Orme knelt to search the man, another figure swung from the tree and darted northward, disappearing in the darkness. Orme did not pursue—it was useless—but a sickening intuition told him that the man who had escaped was the man who had the envelope.

He struck a match. The man on the ground was moving uneasily and moaning. There was a scar on his forehead. It was Maku.

He went through the unconscious man's pockets. There was no envelope such as he was looking for, but he did find a folded slip of paper which he thrust into his own pocket. A discovery that interested him, though it was not now important, he made by the light of a second match. It was the marked five-dollar bill. He would have liked to take it as a souvenir, if for no other reason, but time was short and Maku, who evidently was not seriously hurt, showed signs of returning consciousness.

Another occurrence also hastened him. A man was strolling along the lake shore, not far away. Orme had not seen his approach, though he was distinctly outlined against the open background of lake and sky. The stranger stopped. The striking of the two matches had attracted his attention.

"Have you lost something?" he called.

"No," Orme replied.

The man started toward Orme, as if to investigate, and then Orme noticed that outlined on his head was a policeman's helmet.

To be found going through the pockets of an unconscious man was not to Orme's liking. It might be possible to explain the situation well enough to satisfy the local authorities, but that would involve delays fatal to any further effort to catch the man with the envelope.

So he jumped to his feet and ran northward, then turned to the west. Circling about, he made for the gate at which he had entered. His pursuer either took the wrong lead in the darkness or stopped to examine Maku, for when Orme went through the gate and doubled back, outside the fence, to the car, there was no sound of steps behind him. He jumped to the chauffeur's seat.

"Well?" inquired the girl, eagerly. "Too late," said Orme. "I'm sorry. I caught Maku, but the man with the envelope got away."

She laid a hand on his arm. "Are you hurt?" There was unconcealed anxiety in her voice.

To say the things he yearned to say! To be tender to her! But he controlled his feelings and explained briefly what had happened, at the same time throwing on the power and driving the car slowly northward.

"I only know that the fellow ran northward," he said. "He may have worked back or he may have gone on. He may have climbed another tree and waited."

Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unvarnished and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

When the Stomach, Liver, Kidney, Nerves, Heart, or the Blood is diseased, Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. HE SAILED AS "REV. ROBINSON"

Traveling With Him Is His Erstwhile Stenographer, Miss Le Neve, Who, Dressed in Boys' Clothes, Posed as the Reverend Traveler's Son—All Arrangements Have Been Made to Take Them Back to England.Montreal, July 29.—There is now absolutely no doubt as to the real identity of the two passengers travelling second class on the Canadian Pacific steamer Montrose from Antwerp to Quebec and registered under the names of Rev. Robinson and son. Delaney, the wireless operator at Point Armour, has been in communication with the Montrose both directly and through the Allan line steamer Grampian, and his messages officially to Colonel Percy Schrod of the Dominion police at Ottawa, to the head office of the Canadian Pacific and unofficially to interested parties here, show that there exists no doubt in the mind of Captain Kendall and others on the Montrose that the Robinsons are the much-sought-after Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, wanted for Belle Elmore's murder, and his stenographer, Miss Le Neve. The Montrose should be due off Rimouski about noon tomorrow.It appears now that Inspector Dow of Scotland Yard, who is on the Laurentic with a warrant for Crippen, will not be able to make the actual arrest without having his warrant indorsed by a judge of the court of the king's bench. This cannot be done at Father Point, or Rimouski, the nearest judicial districts being the city of Quebec, some 200 miles away, or Fraserville, 100 miles to the eastward. It was therefore arranged, with a view to avoiding any legal extradition tangle later, to have Chief McCarthy of the Quebec provincial force and Chief Denis of Levis, with Chief Constable Gauvreau of the Dominion police, take the doctor and his companion under their wings on suspicion of being undesirable citizens. This little act in the drama will take place at Grosse Isle, where immigrants are examined on in-bound vessels.When Inspector Dow arrives on the Laurentic at Father Point, he will be advised to go ashore and rush up to Quebec by train, where he can get his warrant backed and proceed down the river again to Grosse Isle. In the immigration sheds there Crippen and the Le Neve woman will have the warrant read to them and they will be placed formally under arrest. As soon as Quebec is reached the pair will be taken immediately before Judge Chauveau and allowed to plead. According to law, fifteen days must be allowed to elapse before they can actually be extradited, whether they waive their rights or not, but as a matter of fact it is said that arrangements have already been made to take them back to the old country on the Royal George.

A Boy and a Gun.

Lexington, Ky., July 29.—While driving with his fifteen year old wife, from whom he had been estranged and only recently reconciled, Matthew Bond, also fifteen years of age, nephew of President Richard Crossfield of Transsylvania university, committed suicide by shooting. The tragedy occurred on a road near Lawrenceburg, Ky.

OTTO KUHN

New York Banker Who Smiles
at Failure of Gigantic Scheme.STATE CONVENTION OF NEW THIRD PARTYPennsylvania Seeking to Throw Off Boss Rule.Philadelphia, July 29.—A convention without a boss, the state convention of the new third party, sat in this city and produced as its campaign offering a ticket headed with the name of ex-State Treasurer William H. Berry of Delaware county, for the governorship.
Keystone party is the title adopted by the independents.Berry's associates on the ticket are:
For lieutenant governor, D. Clarence Gibboney, president of the Philadelphia Law and Order Society; state treasurer, Cornelius D. Scully, lawyer, of Pittsburg; secretary of internal affairs, John J. Casey, former legislator, representative of labor, and author of state employers' liability law, of Wilkesbarre. Berry and Casey are Democrats; Gibboney and Scully Republicans. There was no doubt about the boss, the usual attachment of a political convention, being an absent quantity when the Keystone party was given life, declared its purposes and put forward its nominees.The country delegates supported Berry almost solidly, and the nomination went to him on the first ballot over Rudolph Blankenberg of this city and ex-Mayor George A. Guthrie of Pittsburg, independents of state-wide reputation and unquestioned standing.

A KILLING FROST

Young Teddy Robinson's Political Ambition Severely Nipped.Utica, N. Y., July 29.—Theodore Douglas Robinson, nephew of former President Roosevelt, who two weeks ago announced his candidacy for the Republican congressional nomination in the Oneida-Herkimer district against Charles S. Millington, had his hopes rudely blasted in the Herkimer county primaries held last night in the various towns. Robinson was soundly beaten by the regular Republican organization, and he will go into tomorrow's convention, at which delegates to the congressional convention will be chosen, with only about twenty of the sixty-six delegates pledged to his support. It now appears beyond all question that Millington will go back to Washington for another term and Mr. Robinson will return to his farm.

Money Losses Cause Suicide.

O. Yeager of the Winchester Building Supply Company, committed suicide by hanging in the rear of his office.
Financial difficulties caused the deed.

TRANSACTIONThat Proposed Railway Deal
Was Simply Gigantic.

IT FELL OF ITS OWN WEIGHT

In Inviting a Fight With the Giants of the American Rail British Promoters Undertook a Work of Such Stupendous Magnitude That Financial Circles Were Left Gasping—But Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Smile.New York, July 29.—The audacity of the transaction whereby Dr. F. S.
Pearson, Percival Farquhar and their associates hoped to gain control of an American transcontinental railway system stands out in ever bolder relief as more of the facts become known.
Their work was on a greater scale than at first reported. Altogether, long before the resources of the syndicate were impaired, they had bought stocks of the roads in the proposed system to an amount certainly in excess of 950,- 000 shares and representing cash payments of quite $50,000,000.The figures only hint at the magnitude of the undertaking. In the course of the development of the scheme they must perforce encounter every big group of financiers and most of the powerful railroad systems in the United States. In securing control of Rock Island they must have had a bitter contest with Judge Moore and D. G. Reid, men who in at least one bitter fight got the best of Harriman.
In developing Lehigh Valley according to their plans they must have incurred the bitter hostility of the Reading, Jersey Central, Lackawanna, Erie and other roads backed by the Morgan and First National bank interests. In giving Wabash an outlet to the coast they could have had a joyous battle with the New York Central system on one side and the Pennsylvania on the other, to say nothing of the other trunk lines like the Baltimore & Ohio.In the west they threw down the gauntlet first to the Goulds, from whom they proposed to take their choicest possessions. They disdained the power of James J. Hill, who does not want any transcontinental system while he controls the Great Northern.
Northern Pacific and Burlington. Finally they reckoned not of the wishes of the richest of all systems, Union Pacific, with which they proposed to begin a struggle, nor did they seem to take into their reckoning the bankers for the Union Pacific and Pennsylvania, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., into whose hands the syndicate finally fell.As the transaction stands now, though Dr. Pearson and Mr. Farquhar retain a diminished interest in the securities which the syndicate bought, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have absolute control of them and Otto H. Kuhn, the banker who was Harriman's most trusted and respected adviser and closest confidant, is sitting on the lid of the strongbox wondering what he will do with them.It may be stated authoritatively that up to the present Kuhn, Loeb & Co. consider the matter as a banking transaction and have no plan for using the assortment of securities for railroad aggrandizement. The syndicate headed by them has as its principal English participant Sir Ernest Cassel, often regarded as the fiscal agent and adviser of the crown. Other foreign houses of high standing are members.
All of them, like the New York bankers, have diverse interests in American railroads, and it may be taken as assured that none of them desires at this time any disturbance of the cordial relations existing among all the important railroads and bankers of this country.It was to prevent trouble in the railroad world and to restore to normal conditions a stock market badly demoralized by the Pearson-Farquhar liquidation, it was explained, that the securities were taken over. It was purely and simply a banking transaction. Nevertheless, now that the securities have been taken over, the syndicate finds itself in control of a block of Rock Island said to be greater than the Moore-Reid holdings, a large slice of Lehigh Valley and stacks of Wabash and Missouri Pacific that are probably big enough to call the Goulds. "The holdings have potentialities," so it was authoritatively declared.The Mt. McKinley expedition is returning to Seward, having failed to reach the summit of the mountain.

GIGANTIC REMOVAL SALE

The Greatest, Dependable, Most Satisfactory, Most Remarkable Saving Opportunity of the Season

It Is Your Move Now

We Will Move Next

Preparatory to moving into our new building, just recently purchased, we will place before the buying public a tremendously big bargain event. For real 100 per cent. pure bargains the coming sale has never been surpassed. Anyone who has ever moved, knows and appreciates the trouble and cost of moving. The less we will have to move, the less will be the trouble and cost. So in order to reduce the burden of moving to a minimum, we will affix prices that will induce those who appreciate bargains to move the goods for us. The values are quite unusual. We can afford to make them so. For prices see the bills distributed throughout the city and county.

This Sale Begins Saturday, July 30th. Be Present on the Opening Day

always brought together a good collection of youngsters. The secretary has been urged to put a three-year-old trot on the racing card this year and it is probable that he will do so. It is known that six entries can be obtained from this vicinity and a number of inquiries have been made, stating that if such a race is to be had, a horse will be entered. It will be finally decided at a meeting of the fair board Saturday.

The free attractions and races will not be the only things to be found at the fair this year. All of the exhibits promise to be well filled and prospects point to a record fair. A local farmer yesterday made forty-four entries in the agricultural hall, which will take up half of the space in that building. The secretary has received word that a number of other exhibits of an unusual character will be made.

It is the belief now that the stand and show room will be more largely filled this year than ever before. Mr. King has been secretary of the board for seventeen years and never before has he received as many letters inquiring about concessions as he has this year. Elmer Humes, who has charge of the concessions, together with the secretary, expects to go to Osgood next week, where the first county fair in this section of the State will be held, to make arrangements for stands and shows. They will visit a number of other fairs before the opening of the local exhibit.

The fair board will meet in the court house Saturday afternoon to complete a number of arrangements for the fair. Judges of the various apartments will be selected and the manner of handling the different sides of the fair will be decided upon.

DIES FROM EFFECTS OF THE SUN'S HEAT

Dr. W. L. Rowe of Connersville, Well Known Here, is Found Dead in Shallow Water.

WENT FISHING IN MORNING

The body of Dr. Walter L. Rowe was found near Camp Good Luck at 5 o'clock yesterday morning after an all night search, says a Connersville dispatch. The physician and his father-in-law, John Payne, were on a fishing excursion. About noon Rowe had complained of feeling ill and went to the club house, where he remained most of the afternoon. When found he was within 300 yards of the club house, lying face down in six inches of water. A bass was on his stringer, his pole and minnow bucket by his side, just as he had dropped them. The coroner pronounced it a case of sunstroke and said that Dr. Rowe was dead when he fell, as no water was in the lungs. The only bruises visible were about the mouth and nose. The dead man has three brothers in Indianapolis, one being Lieut. Rowe of the police department.

ARE TO HIGH FOR LOCAL THEATERS

Probable that Jeffries-Johnson Fight Pictures Will Not be in Rushville for Some Time.

ARE CHARGING $2.50 A SEAT.

Despite the fact that little opposition to the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures has been raised in Rushville, it is doubtful if the pictures will be shown here, at least not until the prices come down. It is said that the prices of the films are enormous. The company is leasing theaters and showing the films, charging admittance of $1.00 to $2.50 a seat. The showing of all the films, giving views in motion of Johnson's training camp, takes two hours and a half. A manager of a local theater said that he would bring the pictures here when the prices come down so that he could charge about 25 cents, but he doubted if they would be here before then.

Three companies took pictures of the fight, and each company had three men on the scene, and every camera got excellent results. The series is divided into six reels and there is more than a mile of the films in each set. The pictures show everything even to street scenes in Reno. It is said that there are no objectionable features to the pictures and the disfigurement of Jeff's eyes can not be seen.

Mrs. Lon Havens Fell Over From an Attack of Vertigo Last Evening.

IS SOME IMPROVED TODAY

Mrs. Lon Havens was the victim of an attack of vertigo and acute indigestion last evening at her home in North Main street. Mr. Havens had gone to Brookville on an automobile trip with Fred Caldwell, and Mrs. Havens, her mother, Mrs. Martha Cook, and Miss Rue Whitton were eating supper, when Mrs. Havens said that she did not feel just right. Miss Whitton told her to sit down and she did for a minute, and then suddenly got up and left the room. While on her way out she fell over from the vertigo, and in the fall came in contact with a chair, and it is thought that the blow caused her to lapse into unconsciousness. With medical aid she was soon revived. Mrs. Havens is some improved today, although she is still suffering quite a little pain.

Shelbyville Boosters Were Guests of Bell Smokeless Powder Company at St. Paul Yesterday.

DEMONSTRATED THE POWDER

Several Cities Are Making Effort to Locate Branch Factory of Firm—Will Employ 200.

The Smokeless Powder Company of St. Paul entertained about one hundred business and professional men of this city Thursday with a fish fry, after which they demonstrated the merits of their powder, viz: its blasting force and gun shooting quality, says the Shelbyville Republican. Drs. Bell and Pagel made the demonstrations.

The company is fully equipped with a manufacturing plant and a dry house, which the visitors were shown through. The promoters state that about $12,000 in cash is needed to put the plant in first class condition, which would enable them to make about 500 pounds daily. The retail price of this powder is 48 cents per pound, and the U. S. government pays about 70 cents a pound for powder which is said to be no better and which is more dangerous. The kind used by the government disassembles and causes spontaneous explosions, a condition foreign to the smokeless powder manufactured at St. Paul.

Dr. Bell has been working to perfect the powder for a period of five years, and believes that he has succeeded in producing an explosive that will answer all the requirements.

The gun shoot was a feature of the exercises that the men who participated in pronounced very gratifying. The members of the company are also making an effort to sell stock in the concern and quite a large number of shares have already been sold. When the proper number has been disposed of buildings for loading shells, etc., will be erected and two hundred people will be given employment at good wages. Just where this plant will be located has not yet been decided. Connersville is after the plant. Hope also wants it, and Shelbyville is making somewhat of an effort to land it.
